SENATE.

The VICE PRESIDENT laid before the Senate a communication from the Secretary of the Interior, made in compliance with a resolution of the 25th May last, calling for a statement of all the expenditures made from the treasury for puthle and private purposes in the District of Columbia: the number of lots originally held by government; the number sold; the number reserved, and the value of each; also, the assessed value of individual property and the value of government property. In this communication the Secretary of the Interior ransmits a letter from the Secretary of the Interior ransmits a letter from the Secretary of the Interior ransmits a letter from the Secretary of the Interior desired, dud states thirt, in relation to the lots originally states by the government, information could not be frinished, in consequence of the records having been destroyed by the burning of the Treasury in 1814. The document from the Register of the Treasury gives the litera of expenditure in detail up to the close of the present fixed year, the aggregate amount of which is $24, -715, 552 16. The other portion of the information is obtained from the office of the Commissioner of Public Buildings, from which it appears that the number of lots sold by the government was 10,118; the number of lots sold by the government was 10,118; the number of lots donated to the Georgetown and Columbian Colleges, St. Vincent's Washington City Orphan Asylum, amounts to 783; their assessed value is $6,069 39; the number of lots donated to the Georgetown and Columbian Colleges, St. Vincent's Washington City Orphan Asylum, amounts to 783; their assessed value of government reservations, exclusive of the reservations formed by the intersections of streets and avenues, $13,412,293 36. The cost of public buildings, including furniture, statuary, and painting, $14,709,338 09.

The VICE PRESIDENT also laid before the Senate a communication from the treasury Department nting officers of the Treasury Department; which was laid on the table.

Mr. CAMERON moved that the usual number of copies of the annual report of the Superintendent of Public Printing, presented yesterday, be printed for the use of the Senate; which was agreed to.

On motion by Mr. ALLEN, a resolution was adopted that the Senate will proceed, after the reading of the journal on next Monday morning, to the election of the tanding committees.

Mr. KING presented the petition of Carl Beober, of New York, praying for an increase of pension; which was ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. RICE, in pursuance of notice, asked and obtained eave to introduce the following bills, which were several-series of Capt. James Starkey's company of volunteers, introduce a joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to make such afterations of the dimensions the freasury to make such afterations of the dimensions and plan of the custom-house building constructing at Galreston, Texas, as he may deem best, as petitioned for by the people of Galveston; provided the cost when completed does not exceed the amount already appropriated. IMPRACTIMENT OF TUNGE WATPOUR

The House resumed the consideration of the report of the Committee on the Judiciary in the case of Judge John Watrous, of Texas.

Mr. BILLINGHURST, of Wisconsin, said the House s called upon to say whether or not the conduct or lige Watrous was such that he should be put upon his trial before the Senate, that they may reach an unjust and orrupt officer of the House. After reviewing the evi-dence, he held Judge Watrous guilty of the charges made against him. He had sat in judgment in cases in which he was interested, and charged the jury that the title was good, and it was a gross indecency for him to thus give a judgment which might be cited in New Ocleans. Mr. REAGAN, of Texas, referred to the, statement of

Mr. Austin that he had purchased the three eleven-league grants of land, and that Samuel M. Williams had full over to sell them. That statement, coming from his oleague, must have an important bearing on the case, and he desired to ask him, if it was convenient, to lay a opy of it before the House Mr. BRYAN replied that he had made the statement, and he trusted that his colleague would not require the it before the House.

Mr. BRYAs replied that he had the paper, but it was not necessary to present it. At the proper time and place he would lay it before the Home.

Mr. READY then proceeded to argue in favor of the dismissal of the case, and replied at length to the speech of Mr. Bratasoners. He contended that that portion of the committee in favor of the impeachment of Judge Wattons had abandoned the charges made by Spencer in his memorial to Congress, and had not alluded to them in their report.

Mr. DAVIS, of Maryland, asked the gentleman to date whether or not there was any evidence that Judge Watous ever engaged in a series of speculations in land
The series of the series of speculations in land Texas with parties who were then litigants in his courts;

and if so, how many?

Mr. READY replied that there was not a syllable of lestimony in the record, from beginning to end, showing that Judge Watrous ever engaged in the purchase of a treet of land at any time or anywhere except the single eleven league tract, and never engaged in such a transaction with persons illigants in his courts except in this single instance. The proof, on the contrary, exhibited the fact that he had no means to speculate. He was a poor man, and the fact was that he had never paid one dollar for the land he had purchased, but had executed his note bearing interest from the date of the purchase, and he yet owed the principal and the interest. He had been led into the purchase as a mere matter of favor, be-and he yet owed the principal and the interest. He had been led into the purchase as a mere matter of favor, because, through him, persons in Alabama, who had the capital, we re-enabled to engage in the purchase and entick themselves. He then resumed the line of his argument, referring to the evidence to establish the fact that he had not used his official position to promote his interests or the interests of those associated with him.

The SPEAKER stating the question—

It has been suggested that, if the city is to be disfigured by such unsightly excrescences, they be placed within the reserva-tions, and that the sidewalks be left clear for pedestrians. The proper authorities have removed all obstructions from the sidewalks of the avenues; let those who have the streets in charge also perform their duty.

The earth will in a few days settle down upon the subject of this brief tribute. Her troubled dream of life has ended, and her orphaned family are indeed truly desolate. Their social circle has lot a link which can never be ronewed; her watchfulness and anxiety, her kind forbearance, her devoted love, are lest to them forever. They will hear her veice no more.

Her death was not unexpected; it came gradually as the sunset, and was welcomed as the tired laborer welcomes the night; though, as the waters overwhelmed her sonl, her last long, lingering gase of wistful tendernass rosts upon her weeping family. In their grisf-wrung hearts they have a spring of heavenly consolation. The mother whose levoliness withered in their sight is still with them—an angelic presence. She still lives, not merely in their vivid and weeping memory, but before God.

Gone home: we weep for those who mourn, For the crushed hearts of those she loyed, But not for her, by angels borne To a far bappier home above.

Gone home! gone home! oh, let that thought The bitter flood of anguish stay, And he each memory of her fraught With power to cheer life's weary way.

Gone home! ob, that, when we are called To tread the precincts of the tomb, We, too, may meet it unappailed, And join the loved one now at home!

THE WASHINGTON CHILDREN'S MISSION

THE WASHINGTON CHILDREN'S MISSION

THE LADIES of the First Unitarian Church, moved by the sad condition of a large number of poor children in Washington, have commoniced a mission, the object of which is to receive from the streets and alleys of the worst neighborhoods as many as possible of that number who, either by the misfortune, guilt, or negligenoe of their parents, or from causes incident to the imperfectness of button seeity, are growing up to swell the ranks of "the dangerous classes" of American cities.

They have renied and furnished sultable rooms in the Fourth ward, employed a teacher, and are daily receiving children, who, coming from abodes of poverty, and often worse than poverty, by being surrounded during the day with a Christian atmosphere of kindness and forbeavance, and heling taught, the common elementary branches of selucation, will be saved from great peril, and some of them; it is larged, become very useful men and women.

Very frequently it is found necessary to supply shows or other essential garmouts, and if the means could be obtained it would be desirable to furnish one plain, but sufficient meal per diem during the approaching winter. Being constantly under our supervision—except at night—the clasnecs for imposition are very much lessened; it is certain, moreover, that nething care he wasted which gives to children the power to read the Bible and the constitution, or feeds and warms them, even though their parents should prove inworthy.

We submit the following considerations to the benevolent:

That it is the duty of all good Ciristians and all good citizens to take good care of the young, because nothing can be more dangerous in a republic than the presence of alwess bands of youthy.
